ICBA Congratulates Midwest Regional Bank for 10 Years of Membership

Festus, MO – Midwest Regional Bank has received recognition from the Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA) for reaching an important milestone as an ICBA member. This marks the community bank's 10 years as a member of ICBA, the only national trade association dedicated exclusively to serving the needs of the nation's more than 7,000 community banks.

"ICBA is fortunate to have Midwest Regional Bank as a member of the association for 10 years," said Camden R. Fine, ICBA president and CEO. "Community banks such as Midwest Regional Bank are relationship bankers that are passionately committed to serving the needs of their local customers and communities. It's community banks like Midwest Regional Bank that drive economic stability and prosperity. They make their communities a better place to work and live."

"As an ICBA member, Midwest Regional Bank is proud to be part of a nationwide network of community banks that advocate on behalf of this great industry and its valued customers," said Michael F. Bender, President and CEO of Midwest Regional Bank. "Midwest Regional Bank looks forward to continuing its role with ICBA to help strengthen and preserve the community bank industry so that consumers across the nation can experience the difference of working with a local community bank for years to come."

Midwest Regional Bank is a Missouri state-chartered full-service bank providing products and services to the retail, commercial and agricultural markets. Operating since 1894 as the Bank of Otterville, Midwest Regional Bancorp has assets of over $108 million and has offices in Festus, Arnold, and Otterville, MO.
