Midwest Regional Bank honored as a Century Bank

Festus, MO – Midwest Regional Bank has been recognized as an “MBA Century Bank” by the Missouri Bankers Association. Chartered in 1894, Midwest Regional Bank is one of 132 Missouri banks that has reached or surpassed the 100 year milestone.

In presenting an “MBA Century Bank” certificate, MBA President Max Cook said “Local community banks, like Midwest Regional Bank, have been serving the citizens of the state for decades and to reach “Century Bank” status is just one indication of how important their work is to the development and growth of our communities.”

Midwest Regional Bank was founded in 1894 as The Bank of Otterville and has a long-standing tradition of providing outstanding customer service to its customers and a commitment to the communities it serves. Mike Bender, President and CEO says, “To be named a Century Bank by the MBA is an accomplishment achieved by generations of our dedicated employees. It is a great honor and we are proud and thankful.”

Midwest Regional Bank is a member of the Missouri Bankers Association, which was founded in 1891 and is celebrating its 120th anniversary. The MBA serves as the principle advocate for the Missouri banking industry, with 330 banks and 30,000 employees at over 2,000 locations.

Midwest Regional Bank is a Missouri state-chartered full-service bank providing products and services to the retail, commercial and agricultural markets. Operating since 1894 as the Bank of Otterville, Midwest Regional Bank has assets of over $108 million and has offices in Festus, Arnold, and Otterville, MO.
